

Call for Papers

40th Annual Contemporary Accounting Research Conference
Milan, Italy
SDA Bocconi School of Management, Bocconi University

Friday, October 24–Saturday, October 25, 2025
(plus Doctoral/Junior Faculty Consortium on Thursday, October 23)

SDA Bocconi School of Management Campus

Contemporary Accounting Research (CAR) has a well-established worldwide reputation for publishing diverse and innovative research across the entire spectrum of roles that accounting plays in markets, organizations, and society.

The 40th CAR Conference, being held in Milan, Italy, will continue to celebrate this diversity and innovation.

We would like to thank SDA Bocconi School of Management and the Department of Accounting of Bocconi University for kindly agreeing to host our conference.

We welcome the submission of high-quality research on any accounting topic, based on the rigorous application of an appropriate method.

Submission Process

Submissions to the conference are submissions to CAR and must follow CAR's submission processes. When submitting to the online system, choose article type "2025 CAR Conference." Submission fees for conference papers, payable by VISA or MasterCard, are the same as submission fees for regular CAR submissions. Submissions to the CAR conference are accepted only in English.

Submissions must be received in CAR's Editorial Manager no later than 4:59 p.m. EDT on April 1, 2025.

Papers not accepted for the conference and submissions that come in after the deadline will be treated as regular CAR submissions. Papers accepted for the conference are usually published in CAR; however, the ultimate disposition of each manuscript will be determined through the journal's normal review process. Authors will be notified of the initial decision regarding their conference submission by late July 2025.

Submissions should be directed to:

Professor Partha Mohanram
Editor-in-Chief
Contemporary Accounting Research

Questions about the submission process should be directed to Ms. Judy Tran at car@caaa.ca.
